DAILY NUTRITION AND WEIGHT MANAGEMENT

The quality of the Western diet has declined in recent years. Many are no longer getting the right balance of macronutrients (protein, fat and carbohydrate), micronutrients (vitamins and minerals), nor the fiber or phytonutrients our bodies need every day. For example, although we are getting more than enough protein in our diets, we are getting it from animal and dairy products which may be laden with fat and cholesterol. Poor diets along with a sedentary lifestyle do play a role in the high incidence of weight gain.

- Wholesome, balanced nutrition and an active lifestyle can also support weight management success.
- Getting all of our essential vitamins and minerals is vital to the proper functioning of our body. The right balance of macronutrients and micronutrients is what we should provide our body with.
